

Philosophy of Teaching

"I have taught young people for ten years. During that time, I have given assignments, among others, to a murderer, an evangelist, a boxer, and a thief. The murderer awaits death in the state penitentiary; the evangelist has lain a year now in the cemetery; the boxer lost an eye in a brawl in Hong Kong; and the thief, by standing on tiptoe, can see the windows of my classroom from the county jail. All these pupils once sat and looked at me across worn brown desks. I must have been a great help to these pupils, for I taught them the rhyme scheme of the Elizabethan sonnet and how to diagram a complex sentence. What a graphic reminder that we do not teach subjects, but students!"
